

WHEREAS, according to the Consumes, American, Bear and Yuba Planning Committee (CABY), which is comprised of a broad representation of various interest groups such as water agencies, conservation groups, counties, regional and agriculture groups, watershed collaboratives, tribe and recreational groups, and the South Fork American River Watershed Plan dated February 2009, states as their main objective a collaborative effort to reduce mercury contamination, and protect and restore the local streams and rivers; and

South Fork American River Watershed Plan

Final • February 2009

Prepared for:
South Fork American River Watershed Group

Prepared by:
El Dorado Irrigation District
with EN2 Resources

10/4

Table of Contents

4.4	Environment and Habitat	4-15
	4.4.1 Habitat degradation and loss	4-15
	4.4.2 Species population declines	4-17
	4.4.3 Invasive Species	4-18
4.5	Social and Cultural	4-19
	4.5.1 Cultural Sites	4-19
	4.5.2 Agricultural Industry	4-20
	4.5.3 Silviculture	4-21
	4.5.4 Recreation	4-22
	4.5.5 Aesthetics	4-23
	4.5.6 Mining History	4-23
	4.5.7 Hydro-power Generation	4-24
	4.5.8 Urbanization and Growth	4-25
4.6	Flooding	4-25
	4.6.1 Wastewater Overflow	4-26
	4.6.2 Urban Runoff	4-26
	4.6.3 Slope Stability	4-26
	4.6.4 Homes and Businesses	4-26
	4.6.5 Sediment	4-27
4.7	Catastrophic Wildfire	4-28
	4.7.1 Infrastructure and Human Life	4-28
	4.7.2 Habitat	4-29
	4.7.3 Sediment	4-30
	4.7.4 Precipitation and Runoff	4-30
	4.7.5 Aesthetics and Recreation	4-30
	4.7.6 Soil Degradation	4-31
4.8	Air Quality	4-31
	4.8.1 Burning – Controlled and Wildfire	4-32
	4.8.2 Asbestos	4-32
	4.8.3 Dust	4-32
	4.8.4 Greenhouse Gases	4-33
Chapter 5 Goals and Objectives		5-1
5.1	Regional Priorities	5-1
5.2	SFAR Watershed Goals	5-1
5.3	Objectives	5-5
5.4	Integration of Goals and Objectives	5-15
	5.4.1 Conclusion	5-16
Chapter 6 Implementation		6-1
6.1	Introduction	6-1
6.2	Ongoing Project Evolution	6-1
6.3	Proposed Implementation Projects	6-1
Chapter 7 Future Plans		7-1
7.1	Programmatic-level Impacts and Benefits	7-1

2014

